Bryn Mawr students and employees can use personal or BMC Zoom licenses, although certain features may only be available on a BMC Zoom account. This article explains how to tell which one you have logged into from your account profile page.

Before you start, you may need access to the following:

- a computer or tablet with a web browser (you can't access your profile page from the mobile app).

Pull up your Zoom profile in a web browser:

- If you are logged into Zoom through your web browser, click Profile in the left sidebar menu.
- If you are logged into the desktop app, click your profile picture (or your initials if you haven't set up a picture) in the upper right and choose My Profile (Change Picture if you don't have a picture) from the drop-down menu.

If you are logged into a Bryn Mawr account, your Personal Meeting ID will contain https://brynmawr-edu.zoom.us, as shown below.

If the Personal Meeting ID does not contain https://brynmawr-edu.zoom.us, then you are logged in to a personal Zoom account, even if you logged into your account using a Bryn Mawr email address.
See Zoom: Get/log into a BMC account for instructions on how to get and log to a Bryn Mawr College Zoom account.
